

THE RESPONSIBILITY FROM DIVINE TEXTS POINT OF VIEW

In its structure responsibility goes beyond the bounds of the field of ethics as it is not only related to the fulfillment of obligations but also to the accountability of the eternal world. Keeping this in mind the worshipper should understand any kind of responsibility and based on this belief must act.

- Everyone who is responsible must be maximally committed to give his own contribution to the development of this value, with the aim of improving the life of the individual, the groups and the whole society.
- The value of a worshipper, respectively of the intellectual and the reasonable man, would have had its own meaning only when it concretizes it by implementing the responsibility with honor. The positive effects that this bring would be evident in creating an environment for an honest and advanced life. On the contrary, anarchy and disoriented life will take the place of the honest and happy life.
